DAILY GAZETTE.

A Horrible Story-An Idiot's Suffer-ings for Twenty Years.

The following horrible story appears in the London Times. It is from the pen of Mr. Sidney Hodges, Secretary of the Royal Cornwall Polytechnic Society :-

"For some years past rumors have been current that the brother of a person named Porter, living in comfortable circumstances at Flushing, had been kept for many years in close confinement in a small room at the back of the premises in which Porter and his family reside. Heartrending cries and howls have been repeatedly heard by the neighbors, especially on cold winter nights; but, although the sympathy of many was aroused, no one deemed it his duty to inquire into the circumstences of the case, not dreaming, probably, of the horrors that were to be revealed.

Rather more than a year ago Dr. Bryne, a well known medical practitioner from the county of Durham, now residing in this town, was compelled to seek the warm climate of Flushing for his health, and incidentally heard these rumors. Not satisfied to allow the matter to remain uninvestigated, he collected all the evidence he At J. C. Bailey's Store! could, and was so satisfied that the case was one demanding a strict inquiry that he communicated the facts to the Home Secretary, who at once appointed him special commissioner, and saus down two other commissioners, who, in company with Dr. B., went to Porter's house on Thursday last and demanded admission to his brother. Porter himself was absent, but, after some little parley with the other inmates, Dr. Bryan, who had obtained some ineight of the premises, led the way through the house across a yard and up a flight of steps, where concealed from view round a corner, they found a door, which admitted them to the den in which the lunatic was confined."

"The sight which mot their gaze was loo revolting to be described with all its horrid details. The place consisted of four bare, wet, plaster walls, with a small window on one side, and the door by which they had entered; a doorway opposite, formerly communicating with the house, was plastered up, so as to cut off all communication, except by the flight of steps at the back. In one corner of the room was a wretched truckle bedstead, with cross LEATHER and FINDINGS. pieces of wood, rotten with fifth, about six inches wide and the same distance apart.— On these bare boards was crouched a lieing more resembling a baboon than a man, drawn and cramped, from long exposure and suffering, out of all form of humanity, stark naked, and with only two old rotten baga for a coverlet. I have said like a baboon, from the peculiar form into which the limbs were drawn; the knees almost touched the chin, and were pressed close down upon the chest, I imagine for warmth; the feet close together and bent down one over the other, also, I imagine for warmth: the hands clinched and brought up close to | Black, the chin; the arms closely pressed against the sides. Would a raving manine be consigned to such a doom? God forbid. What, we ask, is the mental condiviolence or even anger of any kind, and strong indications of intelligence in many things, even after these weary years of neglect and cruelty. On Sunday, in company with Dr. Byrne and some friends, I visited the poor creature for the purpose of getting a sketch of the remarkable position in which he had remained for so many vears. The arrangements being completed, two intelligent keepers from the country asylum washed, dressed, and took him away to that admirably conducted establishment at Bodmin, where we fervently hope that both his mental and bodily condition may soon be improved.

Many hundreds of people were collected round the conveyance, to which the keeper carried him in his arms like a child, 'My God! Can that be a man ?' God bless you, Dr. Byrne !" were the exclamations that burst from the lips | M and WINTER STOOK of of the multitude. Few eyes were dry, especially when some one who had known him when a strong intelligent youth, pressed forward and shook him by the hand. I am told the commissioners stated that in an experience of forcy years they had never met with a case so awful."

Extraordinary Elopement,

One day last week Mrs. Emma Goodwin, of Noble county. Ohio, started from her home to go to Pennsylvania to visit some relatives who reside in Greene county, in that state, leaving her husband and two five and seven years, and a hired girl at home, "to keep house." Her husband amply provided her with first husband amply husband amply husband hus ply press d her with funds to pay her way being her departure. It seems that a day or two after Mrs. Goodwin left home, Mr. G. took it into his head to attempt to seduce Mrs. Taylor from her "sacred allegiance to her lord," and induce her to clope with him in her husband's absence, in which it seems Horrible Story—An Idlor's Eufler-ings for Twenty Years.

The following horrible story appears in the London Times. It is from the pen of Mr. Sidney Hodges, Secretary of the Royal Cornwall Polytechnic Society: -: "For some years past rumors have been current that the brother of a person named Porter, living in comfortable circumstances at Flushing, had been kept for many years in close confinement in a small room at the back of the premises in which Porter and his family reside. Heartrending cries and howls have been repeatedly heard by the neighbors, especially on cold winter nights; but, although the sympathy of many was aroused, no one deemed it his duty to inquire into the circumstances of the case, not dreaming, probably, of the horrors that were to be revealed.

Rather more than a year ago Dr. Bryne well known medical practitioner from the county of Darham, now residing in this town, was compelled to seek the warm climate of Flushing for his health, and, incidentally heard these rumors. Not satisfiad to allow the matter to remain uninvesti could, and was so satisfied that the case was one demanding a strict inquiry that he communicated the facts to the Home Secretary, who at once appointed him spe cial commissioner, and sent down two other commissioners, who, in company with Dr. B., went to Porter's house on Thursday last and demanded admission to his broth er. Porter himself was absent, but, after some little parley with the other inmates, Dr. Bryan, who had obtained some insight of the premises, led the way through the where concealed from view round a corner they found a door, which admitted them to the den in which the lunatic was confined. "The sight which met their gaze was too revolting to be described with all its horrid details. The place consisted of four bare, wet, plaster walls, with a small window on one side, and the door by which they had entered; a doorway opposite, formerly communicating with the house, was plastered up, so as to cut off all communieation, except by the flight of steps at the back. In one corner of the room was a wretched truckle bedstead, with cross pieces of wood, rotten with fith, about six inches wide and the same distance apart.— On these bare boards was cropched a being more resembling a baboon than a man, drawn and cramped, from long exposure and suffering, out of all form of humanity, stark naked, and with only two, old rotten bags for a coverlet. I have said like a baboon, from the peculiar form into which the limbs were drawn; the knees almost touched the chip, and were pressed close down upon the chest, Limagine for warmth; the feet close together and bent down one over the other, also, I imagine for warmth; the hands clinched and brought up close to the chin; the arms closely pressed against the sides. The knee and hip joints were the sides. The knee and hip joints were also anchylose; the elbow joints were one burners. The floor and walls were one mass of accumulated lith, the floor was rotten with it, the stench horrible; and there are other circumstances of the case burners. Dark Brown. Dark Brob. Lith's Brob.

house across a yard and up a flight of steps

A most mild, benevulent expression of countenance, a childlike submission to all that is done to him, no symptoms of violence or even anger of any kind, and strong indications of intelligence in many things, even after these weary years of neglect and cruelty. On Sunday, in company with Dr. Byrne and some friends, I visited the poor creature for the purpose of get-ting a sketch of the remarkable position in which he had remained for so many years. The arrangements being completed, two intelligent keepers from the country asylum washed, dressed, and took him away to that admirably conducted establishment at Bodmin, where we fervently hope that both his mental and bodily condition may soon he improved. Of all the moving incidents of the case, not the least was she seene on emerging from the house. Many hundreds of people were collected round the conveyance, to which the keeper carried him in his arms like a child. 'My God! Can that be a man?' 'God bless you, Dr. Byrne'!" were the exclamations that burst from the lips of the multitude. Few eyes were dry, especially when some one who had known him when a strong intelligent youth, pressed forward and shook him by the hand: I am told the commissioners stated that in an experience of forcy years they had never met with a case to awful."

Extraordinary Elopement,

One day last week Mrs. Emma Goodwin, of Noble county. Ohio, started from her home to go to Pennsylvania to visit some relatives who reside in Greene county, in that state, leaving her husband and two that state, leaving her husband and two small children, agod, respectively, about five and seven years, and a hired girl at home, "to keep house." Her husband amply provided her with funds to pay her way believe her departure. About the same time, Mr. George Taylor, who resides in the same neighborhood, and who was able to rejoice in the possession of a handsome, wife and two intelligent little "pledges of affection," started West "on business"but, somehow or other, le took the wrong road, and arrived in Wheeling about the same time as Mrs. Emma G. They rebut, somehow or other, he took the wrong road, and arrived in Wheeling about the same time as Mrs. Emma G. They remained at one of our hotels over night, passing as man and wife, and the next morning took the Pittsbarg train. It seems morning took the Pittsburg train. It seems that, after two or three days' travel, they RECRUITS FOR THE brought up at Cleveland. Arriving just before meal time, after a heatily prepared toilet, they passed to the dining room and Mere sested near the head of the table—Mrs. Emma immediately opposite her husband, and Mr. Taylor immediately opposite his wife. It seems that a day or two

it into his head to attempt to seduce Mrs.
Taylor from her "sacred allegiance to her lord," and induce her to clope with him in her husband's absence, in which it seems were seated near the head of the tablehe had but little trouble in succeeding, neither of them ever dreaming that their

THE NEWS.

We give a detailed and accurate account in this evening's paper of the terrible railroad accident which occurred at Milton Junction last night, in which several persons lost their lives and others were seriously wounded. Many unfounded rumors are flying about in relation to the affair, but our local editor happened to be on the dogrees drew upon them for dialect, sustrain, and has given a correct and reliable version of the affair.

The telegraph has thawed out at last, and gives us a meager portion of unimportant news. It seems the war department will not allow Butler to be outlawed by the rebels, but have extended his powers so that the exchange of prisoners will be likely to proceed.

The Ohio legislature organized yesterday, and Gov. Tod cent in his message .--Ohio has sent over 200,000 men into the service already, and her loyal people are still willing to die for the good cause. Gov. Tod attributes the escape of John Morgan to a misunderstanding between the civil and military authorities, which was a good thing for John if not for the Buckeyes.

Gold closed at 51% per cent. premium.

A significant vote was taken the other day in the House of Representatives. The bilt appropriating $20,000,000 for bounties to encourage enlistments in the Federal ermy, was up for consideration, when Harding, of Kentucky, brought matters to a focus by proposing an amendment that no part of such appropriation should be used to equip and support colored soldiers. Upon this amendment a vote was taken, and received 41 copperhead votes, among which was Jas. S. Brown, of Milwaukse. Whather that gentleman desired to keep colored men out of the service in order that the patriote of his own city could have m better chance to enlist, or that it would be an insult to "our misguided southern; them, or whether he had some other motive for such a vote, is not just now apparent. Certain prominent gentlemen in that congressional district, calling themsolves Republicans, who voted for Mr. Brown in preference to Mr. Potter, have a Union man, we beg leave to suggest that the copper cent be taken as the standard of valuation or, what will be still better, a Jeff. Davis shipplaster.

We sincerely trust and pray, in our poor editorial way, that whatever may betide the really good and able Generals in the field, that some of them and the country may be saved the calamity which must result from being dragged before the public as presidential aspirants. General Mc-Clellan had no sooner been placed as the head of the army of the Potomac than he turned one sys over his shoulder to gaze at the White House and his anxiety to get into it no doubt occupied his thoughts much more than the finding of the shortest routs to Richmond. Added to a natural incapacity for such a command, he was hambooxled by a certain set of scheming politicians who imagined that he was to be immensely popular with the army and the people. But he failed most ingloriously, and now that he is a dead cock in the military pit, we have no desire to meddle with the Buchanans, the Fillmores, the Bell-Everetts, and other respectable fossils who enjoy themselves best in worshipping the left him. Poor fellow. relics of the dead past, and are anxions to make McClellan a candidate for the Presidency. But we most decidedly object that the usefulness of such men as General Grant shall be utterly destroyed by dragging him into the arena of politica .-Is no capacity does the country need Grant's services as in the field. There he has fully met the expectations of the people, and there, we hope, the President makers that now curse the nation, will permit him to remain.

It is stated in the Washington correspondence of the Cincinnati Gazette that over fifty members of congress have signed a petition to Mr. Lincoln praying for the removal of Mr. Montgomery Blair from his position in the Cabinet. It is also added, in connection with the above statement, that aone of the Illinois members have signed the request, and from this fact the inference is drawn that the President will do as he pleases about retaining Blair, and the delegation from Illinois so understand it. In our judgment, one of the weaknesses of Houget Abe is that he cannot find it in his heart to remove men with whom he is in constant personal communication. Had not this been the case, Hulleck, Baiss and Blair would have been made to walk the plank long ago.

SLANG ON THE STOCK EXCHANGE .-- A Bull is one who buys stock on speculation, thinking that they will rise, so that he can sell at a profit. It is to his interest to have stocks rise, and he will resort to every means to bring about the desired result. A Bear is one who sells stock on speculation, thinking that they will fall, so that he can buy in for less money to fill his contract. It is to his interest to break down the market, and he will resort to the most desperate means to accomplish his object.

A Corner is when the bear cannot buy or borrow the stock to deliver in fulfillment of their contracts.

BAPTISMAL BLUNDER.—In a village not twenty miles from this city a woman took her infant female child to church to be Temperance Cap. christened, and chose for it the name of Lucy. Unfortunately, as it happened, the mother lisped, and when asked by the minister what name she had selected, she replied, "Luthy, thir." Understanding her to say "Lucifer," the man of clerical robes was, very naturally, considerably shocked, but as he had reached a point in the proceedings where the dignity of his office must be sustained. he controlled his feelname given him, but supposing the child to be a boy, announced in loud tones the name of the little one to be " George Washington!" The feelings of the mother may be imagined.—Hartford Courant.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5. Times despatch.—Our government wont permit Gen. Butler to be outlawed by Benjamin. The exchange of prisoners com-mitted to him will be left in his hands. Secretary Stanton has enlarged Butler's powers by putting all rebel prisoners in the United States under his care. There will be 30,000 at Point Lookout within three weeks. The policy is resolutely insisted on that all exchanges shall take place through Butler and none except through bim. Jeff. Davis was in favor of recognizing him as Ould had already done. Benjamin wrote the preclamation outlawing Butler. Lincoln's proclamation outlawed the whole Richmond government, and through this equality or disability there is no doubt but exchanges will again be reestablished.

Gen. Stoneman has been assigned as Grant's Chief of cavalry.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5. Major Girard, a cavalry officer of the southwestern department, replaces Stone-man here. Lieut. Colonel Egan has been made chief quartermaster of cavalry bureau vice Sawtelie.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 5. The Ohio Legislature organized yesterday. J. R. Hubbell was elected Speaker of the House and Wm. Davis Clerk of the Senate.

Gov. Tod's message was very brief .-

Financial affairs of the State were never in better condition. The public debt has been reduced the past year 676,009 The militia system adopted by the Legislature last winter proved a success. He recommends that the banking corporations now existing under state authority be given all reasonable facilities for closing their business. Attributes the escape of John Morgan through negligence arising from a misunderstanding between the military and civil officers at the penitentiary of their respective duties. Calls at tention to the bravery of our soldiers in the field and says although this wicked reballion still continues, we can justly claim for Ohio a full performance of duty in its efforts to crush it. The number of troops raised since the beginning of the war is 200,671. The river here is full of floating ice, and navigation suspended. The bead quarters of the department of the Ohio will be removed to Lexington, Ky., to morrow.

199 We give in this issue, a letter from Washington, written by a gentleman now employed in one of the departments of the Government. He was formerly an editor in this state, and is a gentleman of integrity and ability. We have arranged to have him write us regularly. per During the recent snow embargo, nine or ten trains were snowed under on the La Crosse road. Five dollars a day and rations was offered for workmen to help clear the track. While roses are in full bloom in New Orleans, the murcury indicates thirty-four degrees below zero in Wisconsin. The Washington Chronicle of January 2d says:

"Years ago had a colored man presented himself at the White House, at the President's levee, seeking an introduction to the Chief Magistrate of the nation, he would have been, in all probability, roughly handled for his impudence. Yesterday, four colored men, of genteel exterior and with the manners of gentlemen, joined in the throng that crowded the extensive mansion and were presented to the President of the United States."

COTTON IN UTAH .- We learn from the farmers' Oracle, of Spring Lake Villa, Utah, that quite a good crop of cotton has been raised in that territory last year. Brigham Young has a cotton manufactory in operation, and another is soon to be erected at Springville. The quantity raised will average about five pounds for each inhabitant.

McGregor Western Railway .- Conluctor Sherwin informs us the work goes bravely on, notwithstanding the rigors of the frost. The track is now laid through the deep cut, and as soon as one or two small bridges are rendered secured, the rails will be laid down to Monona-at which time there will be some fun, and something else.—McGregor News.

Eight Persons Badly Wounded!

TWO SINCE DIED!

One of those fearful railroad disasters which curdle the blood with horror, occurred at Milton Junction about five o'clock yesterday afternoon, on the Chicago and Northwestern Road. The circumstances connected with the catastrophe are as fol-

A heavy freight train, drawn by two powerful engines-the Gladiotor and the - arrived at the Junction just in advance of the passenger train on the Northwestern Road, which was something like. an hour behind time. The freight switched off on to a side track to give the passenger train, the precedence of the road, the engines of the former standing side by side with the passenger conches. The two trains had not been in this position over ten minutes when a fearful explosion took place, throwing the passenger coach next: to the rear, over on to its side, and sending tragments of iron and wood into the air some forty or fifty feet. When the steam and smoke had cleared away, it was found that the locomotive Gladiator, one of the heaviest and best engines belonging to the Northwestern Road, had exploded her boiler, in that portion of it known as the cab, which was blown completely out, together with large portions of the fire box. Pieces of the flying iron tore a great ragged hole some three or four feet in width near the rear of the injured car-about opposite the stove, wounding in a shocking manner, eight persons, and slightly injuring a number of others, who were cut with glass and bruised. All the windows in that car were broken, and some also, in the ladies car behind.

Some of the wounded were shockingly mangled. We give their names and places ofresidence so far as we have been able to ascertain them.

Mrs. Felt, of Scranton, Penn., who had been visiting some relations at Fond du Lac, and was returning home, was fatally injured in the head.

Mr. Chas. Batchelor a member of the 3d prove fatal.

Mr. A, B: Griswold, a young medical student, whose home is at Waterrown in this State, suffered a fracture of frontal and nasal bones and was severely burned. This young man was a graduate of the Madison University, and has been in the office of Dr. Cody of Watertown. He was at present in attendance upon the Medical College of Chicago, but had been home on a visit. A young man of fine promise has been stricken down in the first blush of dawning manhood.

Miss McDaffy of Rockford, contunion of head and scalded about the face. Injuries not dangerous.

Mrs. Minor of Fond de Lac, fracture of the fibula and scalded.

Mrs. Simons and child, of Fort Atkinson, both severely scalded about the face, body and limbs. The lady was severely cut about her face and head.

A Mr. Banton, of Beloit, was injuredabout the head, and his hands, and limbs were slightly scalded. His injuries are not considered dangerous. It is a most melancholy accident, but the engine was reported to be one of the best of machines, and the engineer, Mr. Choate, is one of the best and most experienced men in his position on the road. He claims to have had two gusges of water in his engine and only 90 pounds of steam. If such is the case, of course not the slightest blame can attach to him, as there must have been some unknown daw in the boiler. Every effort was made by the Railroad company and their employees to relieve the wounded. Immediately upon the receipt of the intelligence of the accident, Geo. L. Dunlap, General Superintendent ordered an engine sent to Milton Junction with the necessary help. Dr. Treat, of this city, was fortunately at Milton Jane tion at the time of the accident, and did all in his power to alleviate the sufferers. remaining all night. Drs. Dodge, Barrows and Chittenden went up on the extra engine, and rendered invaluable services. WATER WITCH ELECTION OF OFFICERS .-The following persons were elected officers of Water Witch Engine Co. No. 2. at the high tone, " is the reason of your refusingto let my boy have my papers? Hevn't I. always paid my bills?. I wont stand such usage ! Where is the Postmaster? Put my matter in the delivery! I wont have a box! I wont be insulted!"

By this time the Postmaster gets in a word. "My dear sir," says he, blandly, "what is wrong ?" "Wrong, sir? Why, you told my boy that unless I paid my box rent you would not let bim have the papers !" . . . .

"I beg your pardon," says the official, your boy misunderstood us.
